A TRIBUTE TO THE NEWPORT RHPS CAST

(Last Saturday night, six members of the Newport RHPS Cast were invited and took part in the RHPS in Groton - Ed.)

Together, your group is really something to beat. I've never seen any one group of people stick together for so long for so little. Even with the removal of your common cause, you didn't stop, you kept going - no longer in Newport, but in Boston, Providence, and Connecticut. Not even geographical distance can separate you. With the friendship and care I've seen between you, and the friendship you've shown to total strangers, like myself when I first met you all, you should be together for a long time to come.

ALL STAR SHOW

Initial preparations are now under way concerning a RHPS all star show. It's a new idea that has been brought up by cast members. The object would be to put together as fine a cast as possible for one night in one theatre. Cast members would be selected from casts, past and present, from Groton, Providence, and Newport. The idea is scary and sure to cause some interesting arguments, competitive ego popping, teeth-grinding jealousy, and permanent bad feelings. But we hope the audience likes it anyway. See the trouble we will go through just to please you! Aren't we something? There will be more on the all star show in future issues.

SUBSTITUTES

Substitutes are very often needed by the Groton RHPS cast, especially in the female roles of late. If anyone is interested, please contact Jim Fulton (Groton cast director). If we know how to get ahold of you, often we can tell you ahead of time that we need you and you can get in the theatre for free. Until we get some help, don't snicker when you see guys doing girls' roles (somebody has got to do it).

WRITE!

Come on! Write to us. We don't do anything significant all week so we really would like to hear from you. Write to NEW ENGLAND ROCKY, 18 Wychwood Place, Johnston, RI 02919. Too far you say? No excuse. Try 20 Sleepy Hollow Pentway, Gales Ferry, CT 06335. Got one person in mind? Just identify them on the back of the envelope.
