

WELCOME U. R. I.

It has been brought to my attention that a contingent of students from the University of Rhode Island are making the voyage from Kingston to Providence to see the RHPS on Friday night. Exact quantities of Rams expected to attend are unknown to me, but according to Sheilarae Carpentier (our URI co-ordinator who will be playing Magenta on Friday night) the students will come from two English classes. I don't know exactly what the students expect to find up here at our weekend happening. I hope they don't think we are wierd or something bad like that. I hope they don't try to commit Sheilarae to a home where they take care of people who think they are tuned into a station from another galaxy. I hope they aren't affraid to talk to her after they learn about her "other" life. But, most importantly, a warning to those URI students who are coming here as virgins tonight: You will soon be deflowered - and nothing will ever be the same.

RAY'S MAZE

by Ray Prew

The object is for Dr. Scott (see little wheelchair at top right) to collect Brad and Janet and then escape. He must enter one door and leave another door when going to the rooms that Brad and Janet are in (the wheelchair can not go backwards).

WEDING BELLS RINGING!

Congradulations are in order for Steve Chadsey (plays Brad) and Laura Miller (plays Columbia Fridays). They have announced their engagement to be married next Summer. This makes them the second intra-RHPS cast couple to become engaged (unless there are more that I don't know of). The other couple is Andy Lamond (plays Eddie Saturdays) and Kathy Deslauriers (plays Janet Saturdays). Well how about that!
