WHERE DO THEY COME FROM

If it could be truly said that there is a MECCA for Rocky Horror, we here at the Fairlawn feel that we could make a very strong case for our own little humble theatre. By demonstrating where it is our cast members come from, you can surely see that we do indeed have a very wide geographic distribution, spanning three states. We're not talking about where people use to live, but where they live right now. Where they actually come from to do this show, and where they try to go home to sleep after it (sometimes, if they get lucky).

Now that I've told you where we come from, why don't you, the audience, tell me where it is you make your weekly voyages from?

Next time, we'll talk about the age distribution among the cast, and hopefully among the audience (for all you statistics buffs out there!)

(One inch equals approximately 8.5 miles)
