VOL. 1 NO. 6 March 23-24,1984

FREE - AT THE WARWICK MALL CINEMAS

SPRINGTIME CROSSWORD

| ACRO | SS                              |           |     |    |            | DOWN                               | 1   |              |          |       |                      |    |
|------|---------------------------------|-----------|-----|----|------------|------------------------------------|-----|--------------|----------|-------|----------------------|----|
| (1)  | of the Night                    |           |     |    |            | (1)                                |     |              | (        | Gray  |                      |    |
|      | Janet says "Oh, it's nicer than |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          |       | y after Riff chased  |    |
|      | the one Betty Monroe"           |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          | cand  |                      |    |
| (7)  | Lips sing "Seefighting          |           |     |    |            | (3)                                | Co  | o1u          | mbia     | screa | ams while sitting on |    |
|      | Brad and Janet"                 | Bernessen |     |    |            |                                    |     | 3.           |          |       | motorcycle (doses)   |    |
| (10) | Dr. Scott wears one             |           | 3   | 3  | -          | 4                                  |     | 5            |          | (4)   | Janet sings "Oh Brad | 1, |
| (11) | Criminologist says              | 6         | +-  | +- | BEET STATE |                                    |     |              |          |       | I'm mad, for you     | 11 |
|      | " in space"                     |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          | (5)   | Rocky climbs the RKO |    |
| (12) | Eddy is Dr. Scott's             | 7         |     |    |            |                                    | 8   |              | 9        |       | tower                |    |
|      | sister's                        | -         |     | -  |            |                                    | 0   |              | -        | (8)   | When Rocky is        |    |
| (14) | If the RHPS were shown          |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          |       | finally born, the    |    |
|      | on a Wednesday, it would        | 11        |     |    |            |                                    | 2   |              |          |       | audience hollers     |    |
|      | be considered a                 | -         |     |    |            | 13                                 |     |              | $\vdash$ |       | "soup!"              |    |
|      | showing                         |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          |       | (contraction)        |    |
| (19) | Frank pulls the hair            | 14        | 15  | 16 | 17         |                                    |     | 18           |          | (9)   | Eddy Dr. Scott       |    |
|      | back from over his              |           | 19  | +- | +-         |                                    |     | 20           | 51       |       | a letter             |    |
|      | when he goes and talks          |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          | (13)  | What does Brad say   | 20 |
|      | to the wall                     | 22        |     |    |            | 9                                  | 13  |              |          |       | Riff when Riff opens | 3  |
| (20) | Janet says " only we            |           |     |    | -          |                                    | -   |              |          |       | the door             |    |
|      | hadn't made this journey"       |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          | (15)  | Hinwood              |    |
| (22) | Riff becomes Rocky's            | 54        | 1   |    | 22         |                                    |     |              |          | (16)  | What diners do at    |    |
|      | when he                         | _         |     |    |            |                                    |     | and the same |          |       | table to Eddy        |    |
|      | approaches him with fire        |           |     |    |            |                                    |     |              |          | (17)  | What Eddy does to th | ıe |
| (24) | You can come either night       | , Fr      | ida | ау |            | free                               | zeı | r d          | oor      |       |                      |    |
|      | Saturday                        |           |     |    |            | (18) What assholes never do        |     |              |          |       |                      |    |
| (25) | When it comes to sex, Brad and  |           |     |    |            | (21) Rocky struggles to get of his |     |              |          |       |                      |    |
|      | Janet have never it before      |           |     |    |            | chains as Riff terrorizes him      |     |              |          |       |                      |    |
|      |                                 |           |     |    |            | (23)                               | Ro  | ock          | y is     | actua | ally only a          |    |
|      |                                 |           |     |    |            | in the body of an adult            |     |              |          |       |                      |    |

YES, WE'D LOVE TO HEAR FROM YOU

Just because you are not in the cast, it doesn't mean you can't be of help to the newspaper. Just about anything is acceptable as long as it somehow relates to the some aspect of the RHPS. If you think about that, you can strech it quite far. Like, how come you are here. What was you first experience like. Who is your favorite character. A crossword puzzle. Word search. And you will get your name in the paper (unless you'd rather not see it there). The only reason you havn't seen any names in the paper so far is because it's only been some boring person doing this stuff. But he is getting more and more boring as time goes on so it would be a good time to get off your tail and DO SOMETHING. "Don't dream it, be it" should be "Don't think about it, DO it."

Also, I won't have printing facilities after this week. I may do an issue or two ahead of time just to keep this thing alive, but it's coming to an end quick. If something isn't found too soon, this paper is in deep shit! Anyone who knows of a way to get access to a copy machine for multiple copies each week please speak up. FAST!