

Warwick ROCKY

VOL. 1 NO. 14 May 18-19, 1984

FREE - AT THE WARWICK MALL CINEMAS

ANDY AND KATHY

Andy and Kathy never knew of each other. Andy Lamond lived in Fall River. Kathy Deslauriers lived in Woonsocket. They had no common relatives, no common friends. They didn't work with each other. They had never heard of each other's existence. Nothing of occurrence was mutual between the two.

Andy became part of a cast at the Cinerama in early 1980. Kathy became part of a later cast in 1981. Andy was a part of that cast too. Andy is the guy you have seen doing Eddy on Saturday nights on a regular basis. Kathy was and still does Janet semi-regularly on Saturday nights. They never would have met if it weren't for the RHPS.

Next Saturday, May 26, 1984, Andy and Kathy will be getting married.

WHERE'S THE APPLAUSE?

by Mr. Ray Prew
(formerly Ray Prew)

I've been doing the RHPS for some time now, but, rarely have I heard any applause for the cast. We work hard to make this show enjoyable for you. And what's our reward to be squirted with water and have stuff thrown at you THE LEAST you could do is clap at the end. I mean, JEEZE, it's such a small thing on your part after all our hard work. So, at the end of tonight's show, clap and maybe I'll forgive you.

Goodnight, Susan Sarandon, wherever you are.

PUBLICITY GUIDE ARTICLE

Jonathan Adams Is Dr. Scott

Jonathan Adams—actor, painter, singer, composer and hooper—played the part of the Narrator in the original London stage version of "The Rocky Horror Show." In "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" Adams takes on the role of Dr. Scott, which marks 18 months of his involvement with the "Rocky" project.

Originally trained as a painter, he studied art at Chelsea Art School and London University and taught in his hometown of Northampton following a stint in the RAF Medical Corps. As an actor, Adams appeared with the Children's Theatre Company, at Sadler Wells and in various productions in London's West End, including two years in "Alibi for a Judge."

THE ROCKY CRONICLES

by Andy Lamond

Many moons ago, and over, there is, and was, a galaxy pretty far away, but not so far away that I'd call it far, far away. This galaxy is called Transylvania. In this galaxy is the planet Transexual.

In the begining all was "normal." Then, after long abservation of the small planet Earth, the queen of Transexual decided to find out if Earth and it's inhabitants were suitable for conversion to the lifestyle of Transexual for possible future conquest.

For this mission's leader the queen choose the planet's leading scientist, Dr. Frank N. Furter. His assistants were Riff Raff and his sister Magenta. They were chosen due to their recent awards for loyalty to their state.

This military team transported to Earth to a secluded spot with a castle complete with laboratory, dancehall, swimming pool, and, of course, bedrooms.

TO BE CONTINUED - a LOT. So you'd better start making a practice of collecting WARWICK ROCKY's to get the whole story. Stay tuned.
