

who go to the mens/ladies rest rooms, and constantly fill their bottle full of water even ammonia. Just so that they can drench some transylvanian who is getting involved with the next scene. For the morrons that can't comprehend matters. IT doesn't Rain in Cars. This Movie is based on participation not Abuse of it. The water ~~per~~ represents rain. when it rains in the movie not a flash flood. It's one thing when you have your water gun or a old window sprayer but when a couple Assholes take the top off the bottle just to constantly wet people ~~All the~~ through the RHPS. The few people who can't handle the movie ~~should~~^{try} see Noah's Ark in place of RHPS.

Other cases of ~~stuff~~ stupidity include the famous Cool Aid scene (Bathroom Scene) That is when toilet paper is tossed through out the cinema.

But there are a few jerks who throw the toilet paper ~~at~~ with all there might, Point blank at some innocent transylvanian 20 minutes after the scene is over. The slime who does that obviously is not interested in RHPS, the reason ~~the~~ He/she is there
