

ROCKY BLOOPERS

Yes. It's true. Even The Rocky Horror Picture Show has errors. I, being a dedicated (but picky) Rocky watcher, have listed a few of them here so now you can be picky, too.

When Brad and Janet are in the car, Nixon's resignation speech is playing on the radio. The criminologist says that this scene takes place in late November, however Nixon's resignation was in August.

In the castle, when Magenta is undressing Brad, his white shirt is already unbuttoned when she takes off his sweater. The next time we see the shirt, it's buttoned up and Magenta is unbuttoning it.

When Frank N. Furter kills Eddie, he doesn't actually strike him until Eddie's all the way in the freezer. However, when Frank walks out later, we see a trail of blood leading into the freezer.

Ever notice that Brad and Janet go to bed and then eat diner later? Talk about time warps!

When Brad and Janet leave the castle, they are carrying Dr. Scott. No wheelchair. When the castle blasts off, however, Dr. Scott is lying on the ground next to his wheelchair.

Now if you think that's being picky, you ain't seen nothing yet. I've got plenty more mistakes to tell you about. Stay tuned for ROCKY BLOOPERS, PART II.

FORE-RUNNERS

Last weeks Fill-In-The Blanks puzzle answers are: "It Came From Outer Space" and "The Day The Earth Stood Still." If you've forgotten already, your hint was, "They were fore-runners to The Rocky Horror Picture Show."

REAGAN??

If you've ever looked, you'd notice a picture of Ronald Reagan in the criminologist's office. The Rocky Horror Picture Show was filmed in 1975, but Reagan wasn't president until 1980. What's his picture doing there? A lot of people think this is a mistake on the movie's part. Not true. In 1975, Reagan was the Governor of California, therefore it's not the president making a guest shot in Rocky Horror, it's Governor Reagan!
