

CONTEST!

The Rocky Horror Picture Show spoofs the great horror movies that Hollywood churned out over the years. So here's a contest based on tantalizing trivia about these terror classics. Enter the contest at your own risk.

RULES

- (1) No cast members allowed.
- (2) Contest ends Sat., Sept. 28, at midnight.
- (3) 1 entry per person.

TO WIN

Be the first to hand in or send in the correct 10 answers to these questions. If no one has all 10 right, the person who sends in the most right wins. Ties are broken by the earliest entry.

THE PRIZE

Besides the pure joy of victory, the winner of this contest will receive 2 free passes to see the Rocky Horror Picture Show at the CTC.

Questions will be posted in the lobby for the next 4 weeks.

Good luck.

RR

1. True or False: Boris Karloff played the title role in the original "Frankenstein."
2. What great horror movie ended with the line, "...Twas beauty killed the beast."? If you say "Beauty and the Beast," you're wrong.
3. Charles Laughton was one of the screen's great classical actors. But did he ever play a mad doctor?
4. Name the German comedian who established himself as a movie menace when he played an insane kidnapper known only as M?
5. If you solved that one, then you should have no trouble with the Hungarian actor who went from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" in his native land to a vampire role in his American movie debut.
6. The "Son of Dracula," as played by Lon Chaney, Jr., hid his true identity by disguising his name. What did he call himself?
7. True or False: Boris Karloff played the title role in "The Mummy."
8. One of the classic lines in horror movies was Dracula's threat: "Von Helsing, for a man who has lived only one lifetime, you know t much." Who played Von Helsing?
9. What happened to easy-going, mild-mannered Larry Talbot whenever th was a full moon?
10. What lucky actor hit the monster jackpot and played The Wolf Man, Dracula and Frankenstein's Monster?

Words to the music:

There's a Light

In the velvet darkness of the blackest night,
Burning bright, there's a guiding star
No matter what or who you are.

There's a light!
Over at the Frankenstein place.
There's a light!
Burning in the fireplace.
There's a light, a light
In the darkness of everybody's life.

Darkness must go down the river of nights dreaming.
Flow morphia slow, let the sun and light come streaming
Into my life, into my life!

There's a light!
Over at the Frankenstein place.
There's a light!
Burning in the fireplace.
There's a light, a light
In the darkness of everybody's life.
