ROCKY

VOL. 2 NO. 36 December 27-28, 1985 FREE Cumberland Twin Cinemas

36 Weeks, the End of the Year, and a Busted Record.

The showing of the RHPS at the Cumberland Twin Cinemas this weekend marks a historic event. The CTC has broken the second-place record for showings of the RHPS in this area. Doing this was no small feat. When the movie first came here, few people felt the movie could survive this long. This was to be the first time the movie would be shown out of the Providence and vicinity area.

The key to this record has been you, the audience. The key to the movie's longevity has been the consistency of RHPS followers. At the General Cinemas in Warwick, the movie started off better than it did here. As the weeks went by, however, attendance dwindled at GC while remaining strong at CTC.

Thank you all for making a good thing last so long.

GAST BOOSTER

Paul and Barbara Anderson, managers of the CTC, have presented the cast with a $50.00 gift check to be used to help buy needed supplies and props. This is the first time anyone outside of the cast has ever given us a donation.

Contrary to some people's beliefs, we do not get paid. We do get in for free, which is like a $30 gift each night, but we buy all our own costumes, lights, and props. You may notice a small can at the Candy stand. If you have some extra change, throw in a few cents. Please.

Thank you again, Barbara and Paul. RR

Mention

In the Providence Journal Sports section on December 20 on page B-6, an article was written on Jacek Duda, a Yugoslavian basketball player on the Providence College team. Here is part of that article:

In a sense, he became a symbol for the Friars in the Big East the last two years: trying hard, but not quite enough. So a game would be out of reach, another night on the nowhere ward for Providence College, or else someone would get into foul trouble, and into the game would come Jacek Duda.

"DUDA ... DUDA," the students would yell, and there would be Duda, PC's cult hero, a basketball version of the Rocky Horror Picture Show.
