Pat's Appearence Blocked

The New England Patriots, back from the Super Bowl in New Orleans, will not be allowed to come to the Cumberland Twin Cinemas for a welcome home reception this weekend before the RHPS on Saturday night The cast had invited the Pats to appear here, kind of as a payback for their invitation for us to go with them to the Super Bowl (see last week's issue) and everyone was all for it as long as the RHPS didn't start late. But, the American Theatre Committee stepped in and axed the affair. claim Theatres can not be used for "pep rallies." We explained that it was only part of our preshow. They still said "No."

So, we will problably have to wait until next summer to see some of the Patriots at the show when they open Summer practice at Bryant College. A few Patriot players had stated they wanted to be guest stars in the cast. I won't say who they were, because (unlike some people) I know when to keep my mouth shut, but there were 6 of them. For those of you who still want to see the Pat's, their reception has been switched from the CTC to Sullivan Stadium in Foxboro, an alternate site, on Wednesday
