THE UNSUNG HERO OF THE
LATE NIGHT SHOW

RP: How many times have you seen the show?

LM: I've come every week since the Anniversary Week (April, 86) and since about August, 86, I've joined the cast.

RP: You are our light person, the most important person. Without you, no one can see us. But, you never get any recognition. Does that bother you?

LM: No, not really. When the cast name board goes up (the new one) there will be a techie name up there.

RP: It's about time some recognition was given you. Do you like the job?

LM: It's great. I love it.

RP: Would you like to do a part some day?

LM: Maybe some day.

RP: What would you like to do?

LM: Magenta.

RP: What do you like best about our show?

LM: The cast. I like the people in the cast.

RP: If you could change anything, what would it be?

LM: I don't think I'd change anything. If we got more money we could get better costumes and props. The quality of the cast is there.

RP: Do you consider yourself a diehard cast member?

LM: I don't think diehard would be the right word, but it's a lot of fun for me. I love the people in the cast. They are really great and I just like the show. It's a lot of fun.

RP: Tell us about your car.

LM: I don't think I need to. Just find the car with license plate "RHPS" and that's my car!

RP: Do you get any help with the lights?

LM: Well, currently (this interview was 6 months ago) we have a good crew.

LIGHTS !

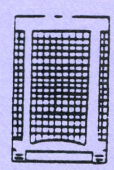

Well, you've just read a 6 month old interview with Lori McDermott. She's still doing the lights, but HELP is needed.

The cast and Lori are currently looking for a few good souls who seriously want to become Techies in the RI Cast. We're not talking about some flunkies here. We don't want someone who isn't going to try. We want someone who will not only do the lights, but take on the responsibility of getting to know the whole lighting system. Someone or some people with pride. It's an honor to be a RI Cast Techie.

Enough? Well, get off your rump and give us a hand, will ya?
