CURRY COMING TO MEADOWBROOK

During the past few weeks, you've been reading about the Providence Performing Arts turning down Tim Curry's play as they tour the country. Fret no longer, Frankie fans! A deal has been struck to bring Tim right here to the Meadowbrook 2 Saturdays from tonight. Tim will sing 2 songs during the preshow. In exchange, he will receive half of the ticket proceeds that night. That's quite a percentage, but how many theatres do you see Tim showing up at? I think it's well worth it myself.

PAY NOW!

Arrangements to allow Tim to perform with the cast, recreating his role as Dr. Frank N. Furter, fell thru since our regular Frank didn't want to miss out on his turn to do the show. That would have been something.

Bad News

The results of a Radon test on the Meadowbrook Theatre show the level of Radon to exceed national EPA safety levels by 11 times! You will all be dead or dying within 17 years. Sorry.

Gold Rush

Due to limited interest in our nightly door prize giv-a-ways, we will begin taping a gold coin under one seat each night. While it may be an advantage to come early, it would be cheating to check under more than one seat each night. Good luck.

TICKET PRICES RISE

The admission price for the Rocky Horror Picture Show will increase to a whopping $8.50 beginning next Saturday. Owner Eric Bilodeau made the announcement to the cast after last week's show. Amid protests and Complaints, Eric said "I want more money," and then added "...and I think I can get it."

If any of you out there feel that the price increase is too severe, let the guy know. He's the one selling tickets at the show every week. We think it's totally unfair.

Nude Contest

In order to boost sagging Friday night attendance figures, there will be a nude contest the last Friday of every month. We have already received dozens of female audience member volunteers, but we are lacking in male judges. As a incentive, we will be offering free beer and wine to those men willing to sit in the first row and judge. C'mon guys, we need your help!
