VOL. 1

NO. 3

TONIGHT!

This weeks show lines up "Welcome to my Nightmare", starring Chip as "Alice" and featuring the ever-evil Shielarae Carpentier.

The number two song in the show will be "Big Balls" by Matt Donga. Due to an overwhelming response via mail, Big Balls will be featured in most all of future pre-shows. (unless it gets outvoted in the future)

The final song in tonight's show will be "I Got You Babe" in a tribute to Sonny and Cher. Chip will play the part of Sonny as Jay will assume the role of Cher.

OUTLOOK for TONIGHT: excellent

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

Last weeks show proved to be the classic it was billed up to be as the three songs performed were done to laser-sharp perfection. The opening song "Werewolves of London" was performed by Chip and Bill Proctor. Chip played the role of the singer, lipsynching the lines of the song and then ducking into a fire exit or behind the front row as Proctor simultaneously appear from the same location in a werewolf mask for the chorus. The timing of the two was perfect and the song was greatly appreciated by the audience.

The second song was "Old Time Rock 'n' Roll" performed by Jay Brooks. The song may have turned out to be a flop if it wasn't for an unintentional trip by Jay resulting in him smashing his nuts on a fourth row seat. The crowd loved the song from there on delighting in Jay's pain and misfortune. (sick people you are)

The show was wrapped up by Matt Donga doing Steve Martin's "King Tut". Donga, wrapped in bandages and long underwear danced the song before a black light giving him a ghostly glow. Matt received cheers and praise for the "cheap" special effects which gave last weeks pre-show the perfect ending.

Some questions we are commonly asked are "who enforces the rules?" and "who is that sharp dressed man with the big rod?" Well, to answer these and many more questions we bring you...

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL WITH:

RAY the COP* Law enforcement was always the chosen career of Ray, from his early childhood when he gave his classmates tickets for speeding on their bikes, to making citizens arrests on friends for jaywalking.

Ray has been voted "top cop" in Warwick for four years running. This is due to his strong showing in the "police olympics" in which Ray holds the gold in the following events; 50 yard dash to the register in the coffee shop, most donuts eaten on one shift, and fastest cup of coffee. Ray, being through all the top law schools in the country, finally decided to settle down in R.I.

Ray is currently looking over some movie scripts, including a made for TV movie in which Ray has an intimate love affair with Lisa Bonet. Ray is also looking over a few movie scripts for the big screen.

Due to Ray's overwhelming popularity, he is considering doing a world tour. Tour info and dates will appear in upcoming Pre-show Previews.

In the immortal words of Ray "I didn't know it was loaded."
