

ROCKY

VOL. 3 NO. 50 September 2-3, 1988 FREE Meadowbrook Cinemas

September is Anniversary Month

On Saturday night, September 27, 1988, we will have been here one year. That's 102 shows we've done. It's also 102 shows you've done. The theater was sold by Luke & Sherri and bought by Eric. He broke the record for the longest Rocky Horror run in Warwick. We marched in the Bristol 4th of July parade. You did the Time Warp and made a mess out of the theater.

We want to take the whole month to celebrate, and we thus declare September 1988 to be Anniversary Month.

You have to come every night this month. You can't miss anything. This week, we'll have F*cked-Up Friday. Have you ever wanted to see Dr. Scott terrorize the transylvanians and dance with Columbia thinking he was Eddie? Would you like to see Riff Raff tap dance as Columbia? Come to F*cked-Up Friday to satisfy your curiosity. If you already missed it, come again next Saturday. This Saturday is your favorite -- Toga Night.

Next Friday (the 9th) is nothing special, but we want you to come anyway. Saturday, the 10th, is like F*cked-Up Friday, but we can't think of a catchy name, so we have to call it Stupid Saturday. Also this weekend, we will be filming for a cable TV show called Artists Rhode Island (imagine that, someone thinks this is art). We want to interview you, the audience, since you're very important to our show. Dress nice.

Friday the 16th is Gender Switch. Simply put, boys will be girls and girls will be boys. We'd really get a kick out of this if you did it too. On Saturday, the 17th, we turn over the floor to a Boston Cast.

Friday, September 23rd is open for your suggestions. Do you want to do the show yourselves and we'll watch? Saturday the 24th is Anniversary Night. We'll maybe have a party after the show. Maybe we'll play video tapes we made during the last year in the lobby. We'll have a limbo contest. We're definately having Double Cast Night. You'll see two of each of us (as if you wanted more).

Anniversary Month is not to be missed!

Pre-Shows This Month!!!

September is Anniversary Month, and we're having some special pre-shows to prove it.

On September 10th, you'll get to hear some music Richard O'Brian wrote. A song called "Once in a While" was supposed to be sung by Brad after he sleeps with Frank. Once you hear it, you'll know why it was axed from the movie.

"Super Heroes" was sung by Brad and Janet as the castle lifts off at the end of the movie. It was edited out of the American version of Rocky Horror because it made the ending too depressing. You might have heard it on the sound track.

A song called "Shock Treatment" is the title song for O'Brian's sequel to Rocky Horror. The movie kind of rotten, but the sound track is pretty good.

The special thing about this night's pre-show is the fact that we are going to actually sing the songs live! A first for Warwick! We don't know yet if we can sing, but just if we can't, please be polite.

For our Anniversary on September 24, the pre-show will be a limbo contest featuring you. Start practicing now, because there will be prizes to be won. Eric (the sexy blond who sells you your ticket and the owner of the Meadowbrook) will kick off Anniversary Night and the Limbo Contest by doing his own pre-show number. He hasn't really agreed to it yet, but he wants to do a song by Prince. We can probably convince him to do Red, Red Wine instead (OK, I'm dead meat).
