FRIDAY - GENDER SWITCH NIGHT

SATURDAY - A BOSTON CAST NIGHT

Friday night of this weekend is Gender Switch Night. This is the night when we DON'T answer the question: What makes a man? Or a woman.

The cast on Saturday night no longer needs an introduction to the audience of the Meadowbrook. It'll be a Boston Cast night.

You see, guys will be girls and girls will be guys. And if you're still turned on and you didn't know all this was happening until you read this here paper, well ...

This will be the 3rd appearance of this cast here. We appreciate them coming here to help us celebrate our ANNIVERSARY Month.

For those of you who think it takes guts for us to do the show every week, THIS really takes the roses.

... AND NEXT WEEK -

ANNIVERSARY WEEKEND!!!!

LIMBO NIGHT COMING

That's right, folks! Next week marks the first year of the RHPS at the Meadowbrook.

You should start limbering up for limbo night on Saturday, October 1. This is the contest for you, the paying audience, to compete in. Yes, there WILL be PRIZES. Anyone can compete that pays to buy a ticket. Join in on the fun.

In order to really put some umph into our Saturday show, there will be 2, count 'em, 2 casts performin the show up front at the same time. All of them are RI RHPS Cast regulars that've seen at the Meadowbrook every week. If you've never seen 2 casts before at once, you really want to see what it looks like.

AUDIENCE QUESTIONS

You will also see, for the first time, our parade banners proudly hung at the Meadowbrook.

The RHPS is NOTHING without YOU. That's why we are starting Audience question sessions. Just write down any question you have that you want an answer to. Or maybe you just want something said out loud. Or maybe a request. Anything reasonable (a very subjective word, indeed) can be brought up. Just hand the question in to someone in the cast before the ticket drawings and it'll get brought up, or answered, or whatever.

VOTE RESULTS TO BE ANNOUNCED

RR

The cast has been deciding on a major issue and the decision will be announced next week. This decision is about something that will definitely have an effect on YOU. What am I talking about, you ask?? Welllll, hu-ha, you just hav to show up on ANNIVERSARY Saturday to find out, WON'T you?
