Rest of the Story: How DID They Get Home

After the castle blasts off, Brad & Janet are still left with their original problem - flat tire. But, NOW they have Dr. Scott with them. As they lay there shaken, only Janet has the presense of mind to say "Now how are we going to get home." The 2 men, Dr. Scott & Brad, are too overwhelmed & shaken to do much thinking. But Janet, of all people, who has managed to handle things in stride, is the one who says "Dr. Scott, Give me the keys to your van. Brad, get Dr. Scott in his wheelchair." It is JANET who leads the SCIENTIST and the HERO to the van & drives the 2 broken men back to Denton! rR
