It is back! After a vacation of over two months, Rhode Island's number one Rocky Newsletter, The Rocky Review is back in print. Why did it disappear for so long? Because of the difficulty in making copies. But now I have access to a machine that can do almost anything. And, like the "other" newsletter from Cumberland Twin Cinema, (Rhode Island Rocky Vol. 2) each copy from now on will be in color. So which copy would you grab? A beautifully colored one or some plain old black and white one? mf

The Rumor Horror Picture Show

Welcome to the Rumor Horror Picture Show where rumors get around faster than a cop in a doughnut factory, where fact is twisted into fiction faster than a speeding bullet, where you can't even trust your best friend.

It takes many types to get a really juicy rumor going. First there is the guy or girl who always keeps to themselves. These are the ones that are usually the victims of the worst rumors. They could play Brad and Janet. Innocence. Next there is the type that believes every rumor he/she hears and thinks that they are too good to hang around with the person the rumor is about and end up loosing in the end. Frank N' Furter. There is the kind who only hang with "cool" people who start rumors. You know, "The IN Crowd". Columbia. There is the person that doesn't care about any rumors at all. They get off on just listening to loud music and doing drugs. Eddie. And last, there is the type who "Justly" is the subject of rumors because of the way he/she looks, acts, talks, what they ware, what kind of music they listen to, etc. But this person just lets dumb rumors run their course and will find real friends in the end and will ultimately win the war. Riff-Raff. Oh, I almost forgot, the person who starts the rumors in the first place. Well, I can't think of a part for them. I guess Rocky Horror just isn't a place for them.

So for now, if you have a deep, dark secret, don't let it slip past your lips at the Meadowbrook cinema because before you know it, you will be a three-headed monster from pawtucket who eats dead rats and sleeps in a tree and digs up dead bodies for kicks.

It's About Time

Me and My Girl is finally coming to Providence this season at the Providence Performing Arts Center. The question is, is Tim Curry still touring with this play? I personally called the P.P.A.C. three times to find out. All they told me was "I don't know, Sir. We haven't received a cast list yet." One person even said "Who is Tim Curry?" Can you believe that? So all I know at this point is that the play is coming. I will print more info. as it becomes available.

Q: Why did Frank cut a hole in the rug?

A: Because he wanted to see the floor show!!! HA HA HA HA

2 Years? So What!
