

Virgin Cast Night

Pure grit! The future! Bravery & boldness, the begining of memories, the begining of ... legends? Who knows what transpires from after this Saturday Night. VIRGIN CAST NIGHT is here! A cast that are not only strangers to all of you, as a outside cast would be, but a cast that are strangers to themselves! And to the performance of the RHPS. They each have seen the show from the seats, just like you, but have never done it. They don't even have the experience of knowing each other. It's NOT going to be easy. But, then again, we're not looking for easy.
RR

24 Sept 1989

hey,
Well- it's 3:30 AM and I just read your news letter from the two year anniversary show. "Had sentimental" No, really- I started going to Procky at the meadowbrook in July of 1986. I remember that show only too well- it was Toga night, and even though I couldn't have possibly known, I felt like the biggest fool for not having a Toga on. But alas- I made up for that this year with my wimie the Toga sheet! Well- ever since that fateful night, I've been addicted- I guess that's the only word for it at this point.

Back to what I really wanted to say: The last paragraph of the news letter was so... on target. You made me realize what I have probably known all along- why I bother!! You also gave me the line I'll use against my mother when we get into an arguement next week about why I'm going to the same movie, at some ungodly hour, that I've already been to 14 times. I was running out of good excuses, and even though her arguments have been growing tired, it'll be nice to have a new one to counter-attack with.

By the way, it's me- Sandi. Now you're probably thinking "Why is this silly bitch writing a letter at 3:30 AM when she's here almost every week and could tell me this in person in only a matter of days." See, it's like this: by then, I'd probably forget what it was that I wanted to say, or that I had anything to say in the first place. Oh, and while I'm babbling, I want to be a pest and remind you (once again) not to forget to call me to be in the cast - at school, or at home. I really want to be a part of the RHPS legends of tomorrow and today!!

Very Truly RHPS,
Sandi

(AKA Magenta - hopefully in the very near future!)

The letter to the right was written by 1 of the virgin cast performers.

PRE SHOW ANNIVERSARY

NEXT Saturday Night will be the 2-Year Anniversary of the RI RHPS CAST Pre-Show. A special show is planned. More on the preshow next week.

LOUIE LOUIE PARADE

The RI RHPS Cast will be part of the second annual LOUIE LOUIE FOR LUKEMIA parade on Sunday, October 15, at Kennedy Plaza in downtown Providence. ANYONE in a RHPS costume can participate. We will be handing them a check for $100. We will be collecting for the Lukemia Society for the next 2 weeks at the Meadowbrook.

LAST WEEK'S ANSWERS

F	R	A	N	K
I		T		I
C	F		W	L
T	O	W	E	L
I	R	A	T	E
O		L		R
N	E	L	L	S

LAST WEEK at MBC

ATTENDANCE	DOOR PRIZE
FRI 60	???
SAT ???	???

*****

The scagily cragman brought his head out from the busted shell & spew out wet filth.