

It's Baaacck!: Now DO IT.

1		2		3
	■		■
4	5
6			■
7

- ACROSS
- (1) He sees you when you're sleeping.
 - (4) What a girl scout does with cookies.
 - (6) Who loves Rocky Horror?
 - (7) What comes first on horses?

- DOWN
- (1) _____ Sarandon.
 - (2) Columbia's real-life resturant.
 - (3) Body part we see good during the floorshow.
 - (5) 70's rock band (abbrev):
 "_lectric _ight _rchestra".

Death's Choice

S	B	S	O	N
B	■	T	T	V
S	■	E	E	S
V	L	N	V	S

RR

XMAS Show

Rumors are forming into vauge truths that we will have a special Xmas show on Dec. 23. AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION will be solicited that night. Every member of the audience will be asked to write down the one thing they want most. They don't have to sign, but we WILL read them aloud. What else on the Xmas show? Stay tuned.

RR

Just an early warning

Santa Watch

The purpose of this report is NOT to get anyone ALARMED. But, there HAS reported a little bit of a problem up at the North Pole. Namely, Santa Claus has been missing for 24 hours.

Santa went out on a routine practice run that should have lasted only 3 hours. With Xmas coming up in a few weeks, Santa wanted to make sure all the deers were looking good, and test the sled too. Elfs said that there really is no need to worry, that Santa may have simply "run into a little turbulane and set down somewhere, and that perhaps while setting down one of the deers sprained an ankle. And you know Santa. He loves his deers and would rather inconvienece himself than push the deer too fast back into action." The head elf finished "People should not worry. We are still going ahead with toy production and will be ready for Santa AND in time for Christmas. Santa will problaby pop back in any hour now."

We here at the RIR will keep you all posted. By next week's issue, which will come out after Santa returns from his little misadventure, we'll give you the full story from ole' Mr. Claus himself!

rr

LAST WEEK at MBC:

	ATTENDANCE	DOOR PRIZE
FRI	28	Chantal Stevenson
SAT	53	Jason Brouillard

 Are your problems so bad that you couldn't live without them?